

OpenIFS used to test new computer architectures

Simon McIntosh-Smith, Professor of High Performance Computing, Head of the HPC Research Group, University of Bristol, and PI for the Isambard project is working with OpenIFS to trial a new AMD based supercomputer for NWP and climate applications.

Read more...