How can I set the values of a field to zero? - Metview FAQ

Step-by-step guide

Let us suppose that the field is stored in fieldset g. Then the macro code goes like this:

```
#set the values to zero
g=g*0
```

Related articles

- How to handle GRIB data with grid_complex_spatial_differencing packing? - Metview FAQ
- I have two GRIB fields on different grids - how can I get them onto the same grid so that I can perform computations on them? - Metview FAQ
- How can I find which fields contain the minimum or maximum values for each point? - Metview FAQ
- How do I remove negative values from a GRIB fieldset? - Metview FAQ
- How can I compute wind from divergence and vorticity - Metview FAQ