Magics 2.24.7 installed as user version on all ECMWF platforms

Magics 2.24.7 has just been released as User Version on all our platforms.

This version is now used to generate all the operational plots for the new cycle.

We started working on the next version where new features will be added.

In the wish list, we have:

- Introduction of the Streamlines.
- Improved observation plotting and use of meteorological symbols
- Improved zoom mechanisms for cell/grid shading for Metview and ecCharts

We will keep you informed when the new developments will become available to test.
